Industry around the world is starting to move forward and incorporate blockchain technology into their customer loyalty program. The hope is that blockchain technology will transform traditional and complex loyalty programs into more streamlined and simplified loyalty programs. To answer this challenge, StarWORKS Global leads the trends of digital transformation in loyalty programs within the Tourism, Entertainment, and Hospitality industry with our StarPOINTS.

What are StarPOINTS Loyalty Programs?

StarPOINTS is a blockchain-based loyalty program that is developed by StarWORKS Global. Members of StarPOINTS will receive crypto rewards in the form of STARXP points for each transaction at any merchant within the StarWORKS ecosystem.

StarWORKS Global develops points based on the tokenization process to improve customer experience by awarding crypto points as valuable assets, streamlining the user experience both online and offline when earning and redeeming, and creating a secure loyalty point system to minimize fraud.

Benefits of StarPOINTS Loyalty Program
